There are around 700,000 adults and children who have been diagnosed with autism in the UK.

It is estimated up to 1 in every 10 people in the UK have some degree of dyslexia.

It is thought that around 1 in 30 adults have dyscalculia.

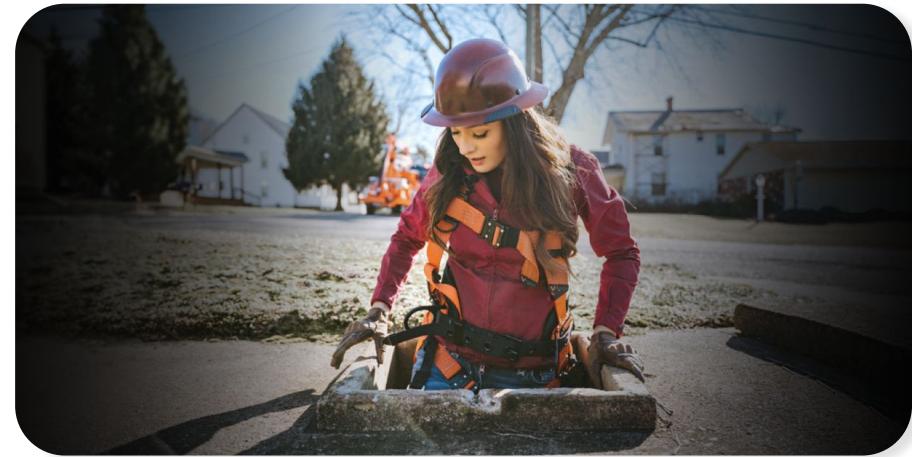

Ally Safety was created to make safety training entertaining by demonstrating rather than telling, exploring rather than just explaining, and replaces zoning out for tuning in! The training is led by Rachel Walla-Housman, CSP, CIH, a Certified Safety Professional and Certified Industrial Hygienist who has more than 10 years of industry experience in leading safety.
